

Michele Sturgell joined Employers Council as a Workplace Investigator in April 2015 and was promoted to Manager of Investigations in January 2017. Before coming to Employers Council, Michele was a trial lawyer specializing in indigent criminal defense for nearly 11 years where she completed over 70 jury trials. Michele earned her Bachelor's Degree from the University of Denver in 2001 and her Juris Doctor from Arizona State in 2004.

Michele is a certified Title IX investigator and is currently working towards her M.B.A. at the University of Colorado-Denver. In her free time you'll find her with her husband and their seven-year old daughter cheering on the Buffs at Folsom Field.
